100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the sirname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, a smooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bear-skin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber living in King George's county Va. on Monday the 22nd March, a yellow man named JAMES, about 22 years of age, his fore-teeth wide apart, and cannot speak very quick—had on Virginia cloth clothes and carried off a shaggy great coat, he has a father named Peter Hall, who lives with the widow Morgan, at Oak Hill, Fauquier Co and his grandfather, old Frederick Hall, is supposed to be living at Mr. Terrett's near Alexandria, and it is likely he may be lurking about there. I will give the above reward for apprehending and securing said fellow so that I get him again, and reasonable charges if brought home.

Notice,

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICHD. RATCLIFFE.

Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. Missouri and Illinois Bounty Lands

THE subscriber has now for sale a number of the most valuable tracts, in both of those rich and improving bodies of lands, and can supply applicants with any number they may wish, and in any part of either territory. Every person who visits the Western Country, particularly those who intend settling there, should take with them a few quarter sections of those lands; every man who has a young and growing family, and can spare a few hundred dollars, should not miss the present opportunity of getting some of those lands; as it will insure to his children a greater certainty than any other investment he can possibly make for their benefit.—From the immense emigration to both Illinois and Missouri, particularly to the military lands, it is certain there must be a great rise in the price very soon, and those who miss the present opportunity, will never again have a chance to do so well. The patents will be sold very low, for cash, good notes or bonds at short dates, or bank stock in the Central Bank of Georgetown and Washington, and the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank of Georgetown. As I am a large dealer in Military Bounty Lands, I can supply any number that may be required.

STRICTURES

(CONCLUDED.)

Uz, where Job is said to have had his habitation, was situated in the northern part of Arabia Deserta, towards the Euphrates and Mesopotamia. He is supposed to have been a descendant of Esau, Reuel was the son of Esau, whose son Zerah it is said was Job's father. He reigned in Idumea, some time before the children of Israel left Egypt. Job was a prophet among the Gentiles, and of no ordinary grade; God spake to him, not in whispers, as he did to Eliphaz, but aloud, in a voice from Heaven, the Bath Col of the Jews, or highest degree of revelation: This voice was attended with an awful token of the Divine presence, a whirlwind, a sound like that on the day of Pentecost, of a rushing mighty wind; he saw the appearance of some visible majesty, a glorious cloud, or a glory like what was astonishing to Moses, when a bush was seen on fire but not consumed.

The book of Job is esteemed to be the most ancient of all the books of which we have any knowledge; it was probably written by Job himself, or by Elihu, one of Job's companions; Moses may have acquired the possession of this book, during the period when he abode with Jethro, and given it to the Israelites, for their comfort under their oppressive bondage in Egypt. It was written in verse, remarkable for boldness of thought, and strength of expression, for the grandeur of the imagery, and variety of the characters. Antiquity cannot produce a performance more lofty and magnificent, more florid and eloquent, where pathos and learning are the leading features. It is a species of Dramatic Poetry. The several answers to Job, by his friends, form three distinct acts; Elihu's reply a fourth; the Deity in the fifth, issues the dispute. The historical part, with which the book begins and ends, are the Prologue and Epilogue, and like the drama among the ancients, contains plain narrative, illustrative of the poetical parts. Doctor Mead's observations on this subject will be read with attention, who although a physician, revered the scriptures; and it was the amusement of his old age, to examine the various diseases recorded in the Bible, and among others the disease of Job.

There subsists, says the Doctor, "a dispute" between very grave authors, "whether this narrative be a fable or a true history: if I were allowed to interpose my opinion, I would say, that it is not a parable invented by Hupotuposis, but a dramatic poem composed upon a true history; and perhaps with this design, that, from the example of this illustrious and upright, yet afflicted and most miserable man, the people of Israel might learn to bear with patience all those evils and hardships which they were daily suffering in their Egyptian captivity. That this book is metrical, as well as David's Psalms, the Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, and Solomon's Song, is generally allowed: and the persons of the drama are God, Satan, Job, and his wife, his three friends, and Elihu. Wherefore it is, says Grotius, a real fact, but poetically handled. Poetry was certainly a very ancient manner of writing, and poets were wont to embellish true histories in their own way, as we see in the most ancient among the Greeks and Romans. And among the Hebrews likewise, long after the time above-mentioned, Ezekiel comprised the history of the departure out of Egypt in a dramatic poem, upon which account he is called by Clemens Alexandrinus, the poet of Judaic tragedies. Nor indeed, in my opinion, can there be found, in this kind of writing, any thing more admirable, and better adapted to move the passions than this piece; whether we regard the sublimity and elegance of style, the description of natural things, or, in fine, the propriety of the characters ascribed to all the persons concerned in it; all which circumstances are of the greatest moment in a dramatic performance.

——Quo propius stes,
Te capiet magis.
——The nearer you behold,
The more it strikes you.

Before I close this chapter, it may not be improper to offer my conjecture concerning the disease of this illustrious man. But previous to this, it is proper to remark, that it is not Job himself, or his friends, but the author of the book that attributes his calamities to Satan; for this author's intention seems to be, to shew, by a striking example, that the world is governed by the providence of Almighty God; and as the holy angels, whose ministry God makes use of in distributing his bountiful gifts, punctually execute all his commands; so Satan himself with his agents are under the power of God, and cannot inflict any evils on mankind without the divine permission. Thus, when the sons of God (angels) came and presented themselves before the Lord, it is said that Satan came also among them. Now, the word astare, to present one's self, as Moses Maimonides observes, signifies to be prepared to receive Jehovah's commands; but Satan came of his own accord, and mixed with them without any summons.

Now, as to the disease, it is plain that it was cuticular, and as it is as certain that the bodies of the Hebrews were very liable to foul ulcers of the skin from time immemorial; upon which account it is, that learned men are of opinion that they were forbid the eating of swine's flesh, (which, as it affords a gross nourishment, and not easy perspirable, is very improper food in such constitutions); wherefore, by how much hotter the countries were which they inhabited, such as are the desarts of Arabia, the more severely these disorders raged. And authors of other nations, who despised and envied the Jews, say, that it was upon this account that they were driven out of Egypt; lest the leprosy, a disease common among them, should spread over the country. But there is another much worse disease, so frequent in Eyypt, that it is said to be epidemical there, tho' it may also be engendered in this hot country, I mean the elephantiasis. Perhaps it was this, which is nearly of the same nature with the leprosy, that had affected the body of our righteous man."

I have only further to observe, that supposing the three known verses in the nineteenth chapter, to refer not to Job's resurrection from the dead at the last day; but to his restoration to health and prosperity, after being brought by sickness to the brink of the grave, is no new supposition. It was the supposition of Calvin, of Bishop Patrick, as well as of many of the ancient expositors; yet his recovery being a type of the resurrection of the body at the great day, the words of Job are well applied for this purpose, in the office for the burial of the dead.

MINT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Abstract of the laws and regulations relative to deposites for coinage, at the Mint of the United States, in Philadelphia.

1. Deposites of gold and silver, to any amount (except very small deposites, say under the value of 50 dollars, when inferior to the legal standard) will be received at the Mint, from any individual or public body, at any time in working hours; though it is desirable that they should be made during the forenoon.

2. About 12 o'clock on the next day after the deposite is made, when the Assayer will have ascertained its quality, the depositer will receive from the Treasurer a certificate of its real intrinsic value, without any deduction, except a very small one for refining, when the quality is under the legal standard; and this certificate will entitle the owner to receive from the Treasurer of the Mint its full amount in specie, as soon as it shall have been coined; or the certificate will be immediately taken at most of the Banks in the city, and the amount paid, either without any discount, or at most, not exceeding one-half or one per cent.

SHIPWRECK.

The brig EAGLE, (of Baltimore,) Capt. ISLEY, as noticed in our last, as being ashore on Folly Island, has since been entirely lost. The crew saved themselves in the boats, and landed with much difficulty on Morris's Island. The following communication from the Supercargo, was sent us for publication:

Charleston, 24th August, 1819.

The brig Eagle, Capt. Isley, of and from Baltimore, to the Havana, (but bound into this port in consequence of the loss of the rudder, by striking on the little Bahama Bank, on the morning of the 19th inst.) was entirely lost on the bar of this harbor at 9 o'clock this morning, in a severe gale of wind from the N. E. The crew, officers, captain and supercargo have all been saved.

THE SEASON.

Perhaps in no part of the United States have the inhabitants been blessed with so pleasant a summer, as has thus far been enjoyed by those of this territory. While the fields of Ohio and some parts of Pennsylvania and New-York have been parched with drought, our husbandmen have had rain and sunshine almost consentaneously to their wishes; and from the appearance of the fields, it is sanguinely expected that the products of the farm will fall to within a hundred per cent of the Ohio prices.

London, June 25.

LOVE AND WAR.

A sad and fatal contest took place on Saturday night between two men, one of the name of Enoch Davis, the other Stephen Jones. It appears that they had been rivals in their addresses to a tradesman's daughter, and that Jones was accepted for her future husband. In consequence of this preference, Davis vowed hostility against the other, and whenever he met him, endeavored without effect, to provoke him to fight. On Saturday evening week they met accidentally on the Kent road, London. Davis again challenged him to fight: his manner, and the refusal of the other to engage in a contest with a man against whom he entertained no enmity, attracted a crowd around them, and Davis took this public opportunity of saying that if Jones would fight and beat him, he would give up all his pretensions to the girl, who, he maintained, had loved himself before she knew Jones. Jones still wished to avoid fighting, but under the circumstances he yielded to the voice of the multitude.—They set to, and fought for upwards of two hours with such desperate fury that they at length fell together, both exhausted.—Davis was removed to a neighboring house, where he expired on Sunday morning week, and Jones is in a very hopeless condition. A coroner's inquest was held on the body of Davis on Tuesday se'nnight. Several witnesses proved that Jones wished to resign the contest long before its termination, but had been in some degree compelled to fight. In the last round the deceased fell, and Jones fell upon him.—The seconds brought them up again for another round, but the deceased fell back into the arms of his second, and never spoke after. A Mr. Cornish stated, that the deceased fell several times from weakness, but was urged to continue the contest by the spectators, particularly the seconds, named Bird and Sherrington, the latter of whom was particularly active in keeping off the crowd with a whip. The jury returned a verdict of manslaughter against Jones and the two seconds, the two last of whom have been committed. The sister of Jones attended at the same time, and was roughly handled by the friends of the deceased.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

The Martha, Sketchley, sailed from Liverpool, on the 25th of last month. It will appear, from our papers, &c. up to this date, that there was a little improvement in the market & in the public funds. The Smithfield meetings occupied, more than any thing else, the attention of the inhabitants of London; and the public prints were filled with the subject, some for and others against the proceedings.

The London paper of the 23d of July, gives an account of the proceedings of the Court of Common Council, held at Guild hall the preceding day, in the course of which it was declared by the Lord Mayor, that information had been laid before him, on oath, of the existence of a conspiracy, the object of which was to excite the assemblage in Smithfield to acts of open violence, and even bloodshed, had it not been checked by the measures of precaution adopted by the government and magistracy.

The report of a rupture between the Algerines and Spain, is not confirmed.

The Smithfield reformers had a meeting at Smithfield, on the 21st ult. A number of speeches were delivered in favor of reform. The London Courier represents "the business of the day nearly as insipid as a bottle of soda water, five minutes after the cork is out.—There was, indeed, a little of the usual twittle twattle about taxes, non-representation, borough mongers, sinecures, &c. but even these were cooked up without any Cayenne."—There were about 50,000 persons present.

The Statesman observes "the meeting proceeded with a degree of harmony, which does honor to the people, and must prove most mortifying to its calumniators."

There had been meetings of the friends of reform in Leeds and Nottingham.

The British Parliament was prorogued on the 13th of July, by a speech from the Prince Regent in person.

The French Chambers have also adjourned.

It is said in Paris, that Generals Grouchy, Clausel, Lefebvre, Desnouettes, and some other expatriated Frenchmen in the United States, are shortly expected in Belgium, where they have obtained permission to reside.

Don Onis left Paris on the 9th ult. to return to Madrid.

Sir Charles Wolseley, Bart. and Joseph Harrison, a dissenting minister, of Stockport, have been imprisoned in England, for delivering seditious speeches at Stockport, on the 26th of June.

Some conversation took place in the House of Commons, on the subject of an outrage committed by a Spanish frigate on an English merchant vessel. Lord Castlereagh observed that his Majesty's ministers had not omitted to take such steps as were deemed necessary on this occasion.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer proposed that an address be presented to the Prince Regent, for a sum not exceeding 50,000*l.* to be issued from time to time, for the encouragement of persons disposed to settle at the Cape of Good Hope. The Chancellor enlarged on the advantages attending emigration to the Cape of Good Hope over those to the United States.

SMITHFIELD MEETING.

Mr. Hunt opened the business of the meeting by a speech, which was received with great applause. Mr. Gast read the resolutions, eighteen in number, on the subject of reform, and of an equal representation in Parliament. After debate, the resolutions were carried, with only one or two dissentient voices. During the discussion of the resolutions, &c. the Rev. Mr. Harrison was taken out of the crowd by the constables, for uttering intemperate language.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

HOUSE OF LORDS, JULY 13.

The doors of the House were opened at 12 o'clock, and in a short time afterwards, nearly the whole of the Peer's seats were occupied by ladies, elegantly attired, who came to the House to witness the ceremony of the Prorogation, by the Prince Regent in person.

At 1 the Lord Chancellor again entered the House, in state, in his Peer's robes.

During the interval till 2, the Persian Ambassador and several of the Foreign Ministers entered the House, as did several Lords in their robes, and some of the Judges also, in their dress robes.

Prorogation of Parliament.—At 1 minute to 2, the arrival of the Prince Regent t the House, was announced by a salva of artillery. Shortly afterwards, his Royal Highness entered the House, with his accustomed State, the Duke of Wellington carrying the Sword of State. The Dukes of York and Kent were present, and took their seats near the Throne.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, who was dressed in a Field Marshal's uniform, and wore a dress hat and plume, having taken his seat on the Throne, in his robes, and covered, Sir Thomas Tyrwhitt, the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, was directed by his Royal Highness to command the attendance of the Commons.

Shortly afterwards, the Speaker in his dress robes, accompanied by lord Castlereagh, in full dress, wearing the Order of the Garter, and the Chancellor of the Exchequer, in the court uniform, and followed by a great number of the members of the House of Commons, came to the Bar.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent delivered the following speech from the throne:

My Lords and Gentlemen,

It is with great regret that I am again obliged to announce to you the continuance of his Majesty's lamented indisposition.

I cannot close the session of parliament without expressing the satisfaction that I have derived from the zeal and assiduity with which you have applied yourselves to the several important objects which have come under your consideration.

Your patient and laborious investigation of the state of the Circulation and Currency of the kingdom, demands my warmest acknowledgments, and I entertain a confident expectation that the measure adopted as the result of this inquiry, will be productive of the most beneficial consequences.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I thank you for the supplies which you have granted for the service of the present year.

I sincerely regret that the necessity should have existed of making any addition to the burdens of the people, but I anticipate the most important permanent advantages from the effort which you have thus made for the meeting at once all the financial difficulties of the country; and I derive much satisfaction from the belief that the means which you have devised for this purpose, are calculated to press as lightly on all classes of the community, as could be expected, when so great an effort was to be made.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I continue to receive from foreign powers the strongest assurances of their friendly disposition towards this country.

I have observed with great concern, the attempts which have recently been made in some of the manufacturing districts, to take advantage of circumstances of local distress to excite a spirit of disaffection to the institutions and government of the country.

No object can be nearer my heart than to promote the welfare and prosperity of all classes of his Majesty's Subjects, but this cannot be effected without the maintenance of public order and tranquility.

You may rely, therefore upon my firm determination to employ for this purpose the powers entrusted to me by law; and I have no doubt that on your return to your several Counties, you will use your utmost endeavors, in co-operation with the Magistracy, to defeat the machinations of those whose projects, if successful, could only aggravate the evils, which it is professed to remedy, and who under the pretence of reform, have really no other object but the subversion of our happy Constitution.

Then the Lord Chancellor, by the Prince Regent's command, said,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

It is the will and pleasure of his Royal Highness the Prince Regent, acting in the name, and on behalf of his Majesty, that this Parliament be prorogued to Tuesday, the twenty-fourth day of August next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Tuesday, the twenty-fourth day of August next.

The Prince Regent took off his hat, and the Speaker and the Members having made their obeisances, withdrew from the Bar. His Royal Highness quitted the House with the same state as on his entrance. The Lords retired, and the House was soon afterwards cleared.

July 19.

We have received this morning Dutch and Flanders Mails, the former bringing papers to the 17th, and the latter to the 16th inst. An article dated Brussels, July 12, states, that for some time past there had been very great desertions of the French soldiers to the Netherlands.

An article dated Irun, July 3d, but written we suspect at Brussels, says, there is no foundation whatever for the rumoured cession of Cuba to this country and adds, that "the Spanish Government has not judged it compatible with its dignity, directly to contradict the report." Dignity has strange caprices sometimes.

On the 8th inst. there was a most dreadful storm, accompanied with rain and hail, at Grave. There fell pieces of ice, according to these papers, of above a pound weight. Between 2,000 and 3,000 trees were torn up by the roots in the adjacent country. July 20.

The Funds continue to advance. It was discovered on the last settling day at the Stock exchange, that the great Bears (the sellers) could not deliver the Stock; they in consequence carried over the account until to-day, and it is now stated, that a considerable proportion of the settlement will be again carried on till Friday, as the buyers have clearly discovered the situation of the sellers; they continue purchasing largely for the August Account. In addition to the settlement of Friday last, it is confidently stated, that the Bears of Omnium have also sold much more than they can deliver, and as to-morrow is the settling day for Omnium, it is believed there will be a further considerable improvement.—Omnium is at 2¼ premium. Consols for Acct. 69 7-8.

Letters have been received from Madrid of the 7th inst. and we understand the Spanish Ambassador has received dispatches by the same conveyance from his Court. We are enabled to state, that the Treaty for the cession of the Floridas to the United States had not, up to the beginning of this month, been ratified by Perdinand, and considerable doubt seems to exist in Madrid whether it would receive his final sanction. Should the Treaty be ratified, it was expected that M. Onis immediately afterwards would be appointed Minister of Foreign Affairs. M. Salmon was in high favor with the King, and had been nominated Minister of the Interior for a permanency.

Letters from Cadiz of the 27th June, state, that the Washington, 80 gun United States' ship, remained at that port, and it was understood that she would not sail from thence until her Commander had obtained the decison of the Spanish Government, with regard to the Treaty respecting the Floridas.

Sir Thomas Masterman Hardy, Bart. has been appointed Commodore and Commander in Chief on the coast of South America and in the South Seas, in the room of Commodore Bowles, who, owing to ill health has requested to be recalled. Sir Thomas will hoist his flag in a line of battle ship, and have a Captain under him. It is supposed the Vengeur, 74, which has been ordered to Portsmouth from Leith, is intended for the service, with the Owen Glendower.

Alex'a. Common Council.

August 31, 1819.

A communication from the mayor, enclosing a resolution of the board of health, was received and read—

Whereupon the following preamble and resolution were adopted:

Whereas it appears by a communication from the board of health, that a malignant disease exists in various parts of the United States, against which it is deemed prudent to adopt such precautionary measures as may prevent its introduction into this town; and as vessels frequently pass the officers appointed to examine them under the quarantine laws from the plea that they are bound to Georgetown or Washington, and as the co-operation of those cities is essential to the establishment of an efficient quarantine,

Resolved, That the mayor of Alexandria be authorised to enter into an agreement with the mayors of Washington and Georgetown for establishing a quarantine for Alexandria, City of Washington, and Georgetown.

Extract from the minutes.

At a meeting of the common council of Alexandria, held on the 31st August, 1819,

On motion of Mr. Longden the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

In consequence of the death of Colonel Charles Simms, one of the officers of the Revolutionary Army, It is resolved, that the members of the Common Council of Alexandria will wear crape around the left arm, for the space of thirty days, as a testimony of the respect they bear for his memory.

Valuable Real Estate.

THE following valuable real estate, the property of the Mechanics' Bank of Alexandria, is offered for sale or rent the most advanageous terms: viz.

A large three story, well finished, brick house, with a store in front, and all convenient and necessary back-buildings; the former residence of Gen. Young, situated at the corner of King and Washington-sts. the most central and desirable situation for a genteel residence—for business—or would be admirably calculated for a boarding house, having a great many well finished and airy rooms.

A three story brick dwelling house, and store, with back buildings, and every convenience for a family, situated on King-street, & adjoining the former; the house at present unoccupied.—The store could be rented separate.

A two story frame dwelling house, on King-street, and adjoining the above, with a store or shop in front, and back buildings; at present occupied by L. Campbell.

A three story brick building, on Washington street, adjoining the corner property, at present occupied by Mr. Mason, as an office, and is well calculated for an office or store.

A brick office, adjoining the same, to the south, at present unoccupied.

Also,

A most valuable and desirable farm, called adjoining the property of W. H. Foot, in Fairfax county, Va. and containing about 170 acres. On the farm is a two story brick dwelling house, barn, and other out-houses. The land is in a good state of improvement, and is capable of being made the most beautiful situation in that county.

A great bargain may be had for the whole or any part of the above property, if early application be made.

SALES AT AUCTION.

Valuable Land for Sale.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Superior Court of Chancery for the district of Fredericksburg, in Virginia, the undersigned commissioners will proceed to sell, at public auction, upon a credit of one, two, and three years, at Middleburg, in the county of Loudon, on Thursday the 15th day of November next,

4000 Acres of Land,

lying in the neighborhood of Middleburg. The whole land is of that quality termed plaister land, and susceptible of high improvement by the use of it. The whole will be laid out into small tracts, of from two to three hundred acres each, and sold in separate tracts to suit purchasers. The whole is well watered, and no country is more healthy. Captain Pickett, who lives near the land, and who is employed to make a survey of it; and Mr. Sommers, who is the agent for the collection of the rents, will shew the land to those who may be inclined to purchase. Bond and security, and a deed of trust upon each tract, will be required of the purchaser.

JOHN LINTON,
JOHN GIBSON,
PHILIP HARRISON.

JOHN HOPKINS

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each—these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 20 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the River, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be governed by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS. { Rev. Wm Hawley, Washington. Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Alexandria. Rev. Oliver Norris, Alexandria. Rev Reuel Keith, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact, that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New-York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise-worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publication will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible, as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines. But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity which teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature, will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.

TERMS OF THE WORK.

A volume of the Repertory shall consist of twelve numbers, of which one shall be published on the first day of every month, containing thirty-two large octavo pages, stitched in blue, and attended with a table of contents.

The paper used in the work shall be good, and the typography executed with the greatest care.

The price of a volume is two dollars, payable in advance; to such as omit the advance, two dollars and fifty cents.

It is designed to enlarge the size of the work, without increasing the price, as soon as one thousand subscribers shall be obtained.

Communications and remittances may be directed to any of the editors, post paid.

Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers, shall receive a sixth copy gratis.

The first number may be expected in the month of July. June 26

For Sale,

TWO tracts of valuable land in Durham Parish, Charles County, Maryland opposite Nanjemoy Reach—one of these tracts of land is bounded on one side by the Potomac, has a valuable fishery, and contains about 360 acres of bottom, with a quantity of wood that ought to be cut.—The other is about three-fourths of a mile from the river, from one half to two thirds covered with wood and valuable white-oak timber, and contains about 700 acres. Both tracts have an orchard of choice fruit. The above land will be sold at Charles County Court, on THURSDAY in the third week of August next at Public sale, if not sold before, at private sale.—The terms will be made known at the sale. Timber or wood may be purchased any time previous to the sale
